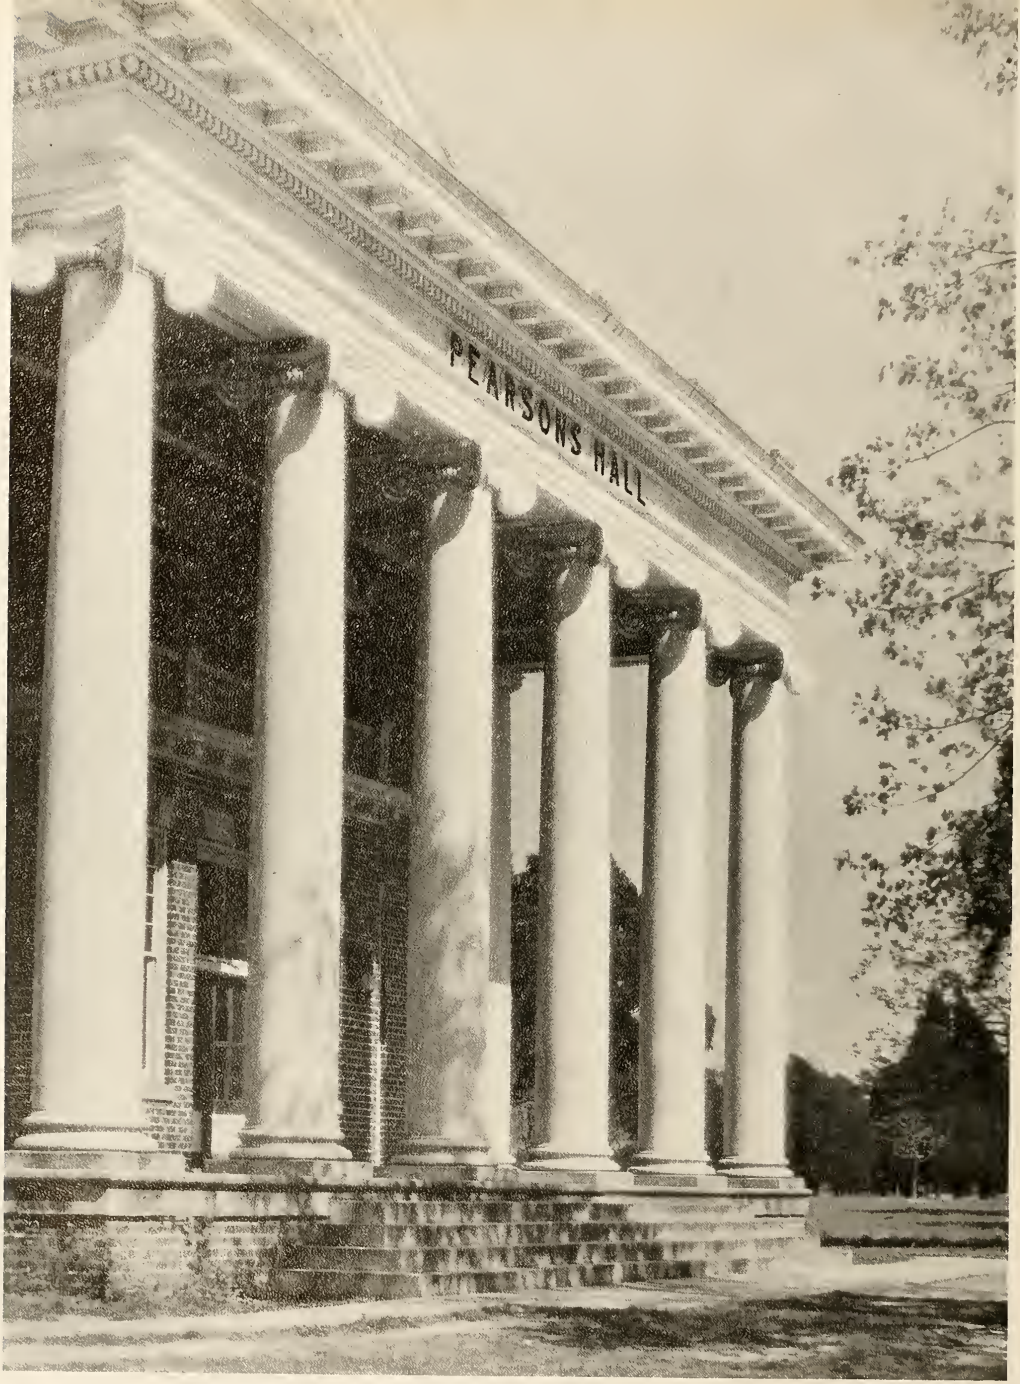
PRESENTING

THE COLLEGE

ANDERSON TOWER

On The

MARYVILLE CAMPUS



PEARSONS HALL

RALPH W. LLOYD

PRESIDENT

OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE

IN RECOGNITION

Since his inauguration into office four years ago students, faculty members, and friends of the institution have come to appreciate the earnestness and ability of our president, Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd. His efficient management and leadership have brought to the college a place prominent among the colleges of the South, while his deep and sincere faith has enabled many to catch a vision of the higher way of life. His constant and cheerful friendliness makes him respected and loved by everyone, and his executive ability places him among the most capable and progressive of college presidents.

SNOW SCENE FROM BALDWIN LAWN

DEAN OF

MARYVILLE COLLEGE

IN APPRECIATION

Dean Hunter has those qualities which inspire respect and confidence among the student body—ability, scholarly attainments, and intellectual keenness. However, these qualities alone do not account for the warmth of our feeling for him. Coupled with them are traits of character inseparably associated with the man, kindly humor, patient understanding of our failures, and genuine fineness. Whatever else we take from Maryville we shall take the memory of an association with a person whose true nobility of character stands unquestioned.

COLLEGE WOODS

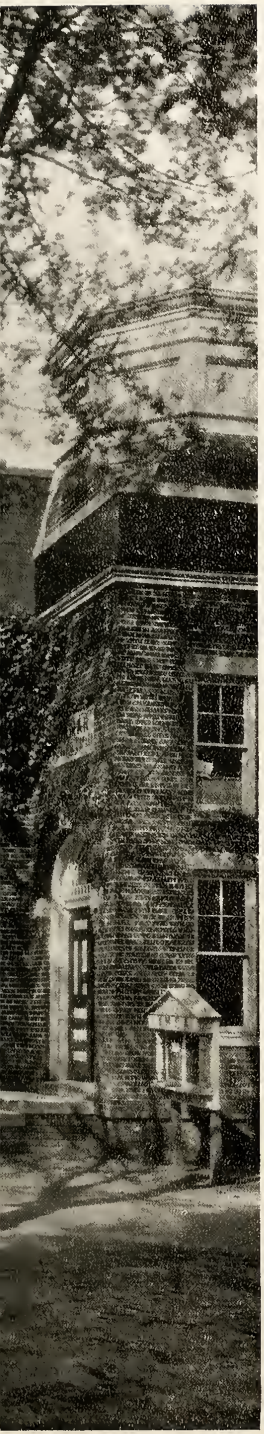
A gurgling stream slipping between lichened rocks; shafts of sunlight filtering through high branches, touching flowers and water with gold; a rustic bridge inviting one to linger and dream —the College Woods.

LAMAR MEMORIAL

The Lamar Memorial Library, erected in 1887, perpetuates the memory of Maryville's "second founder," Professor Thomas J. Lamar. It was formerly the library, but now serves as College Bookstore and Post Office.

THAW MEMORIAL HALL

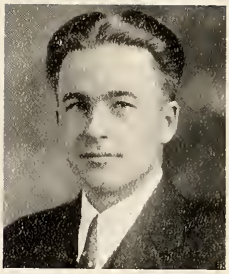
Thaw Hall—intellectual, if not geographical center of the campus, where beauty and utility are successfully joined. Every true lover of Maryville treasures happy memories of this beautiful building where many swift, crowded hours have been spent in library or classroom.



Miss Mary Ellen Caldwell

Dean of Women

"Miss Molly"—not "Miss Caldwell." This subtle distinction, alone, tells of Maryville's affectionate appreciation of her years of faithful, devoted service. Friendliness, sincerity, sympathy, integrity of purpose—these, and many more, are attributes of our Dean of Women.



Dr. Paul E. Fields

Dean of Men

Until the pressure of other activities and their demand upon his time made it necessary for him to resign, Dr. Fields held the office of Dean of Men. He brought to the position a thorough consistency and conscientious fulfillment of duties rarely found in such responsible positions.

LITTLE PIGEON RIVER

This scene is typical of the 600 miles of fishing streams in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park to which Maryville is one of the gateways.

THE ELIZABETH R. VOORHEES CHAPEL

Facing the center of the campus stands Voorhees Chapel, stately in its beauty, warm with friendly invitation, and rich with memories. Campus life seems to center around the Chapel and its wealth of devotional and entertainment contribution.

RAMSEY FALLS

Deep in the primeval forest of the Greenbrier Wilderness area of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park are many turbulent streams with numerous waterfalls. This beautiful falls is typical of them and is reached only by pushing through untrailed growths of rhododendron and mountain laurel.

MODERN TRAIL IN GREAT SMOKIES

This trail is through a virgin forest of red spruce and balsam, stately trees found in the mid-south only on the higher peaks of the Great Smokies. While there are a large number of these modern trails in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, there are also many large areas penetrated only by primitive trails, or with no trails at all.

THE COACHES

LOMBE S. HONAKER, Head Coach

Small, doesn't talk much, but knows football. Never satisfied, so the men give him all they have—and sometimes more. A coach that the squad will remember as a true sportsman and believer in fair play.

ROBERT C. THROWER, Line Coach

"Bob" Thrower is one of the best players that Maryville ever produced. His knowledge of the game and his close contact with the players make him an able coach, and one that we will always respect for his ability.

STEVE BORETSKY, Backfield Coach

Player last year, coach this year, and a success in both. Steve's youth gives new blood to the coaching staff and new spirit to the players. His presence as assistant coach has helped the squad to maintain spirit and zest for struggle even in the darkest moments of the game.

THE 1934 FOOTBALL SEASON

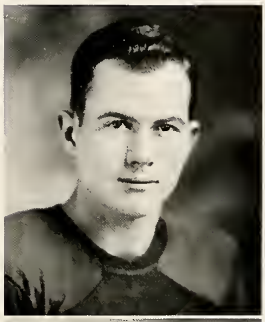
Participating in a strenuous 10-game schedule that did not allow a single let-up during the season, the 1934 Highlander football team won only four of its contests, but two of these victories were in the last games of the season, and one was over the Carson-Newman Eagles, and a victory over Carson-Newman is enough to make any Maryville team forget former defeats.

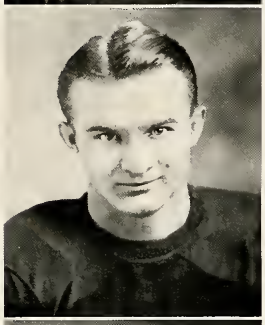
After losing the first game of the season to Kentucky 26 to 0, the Highlanders dropped a heart-breaker to Tennessee Wesleyan by the margin of a safety, made on the last play of the game. The following week the locals lost another tilt by a safety, this time to Tusculum. All three of these games were played on muddy fields.

On the two succeeding week-ends the Highlanders fought their way to victories over Lenoir-Rhyne and King, both favorites to brush the Maryville forces aside. The strain of heavy competition began to tell, however, and the Highlanders lost three in a row to East Tennessee Teachers, St. Xavier, and Cumberland.

After suffering these three crushing defeats, the Maryville warriors made a brilliant comeback to win the last two battles against Murfreesboro and Carson-Newman. Both games showed an improved Highlander aerial attack and the Carson-Newman clash was correctly described as a "natural."

Of the twenty-two lettermen this year, only three will graduate, and the remainder will return next year for a team that should be one of the very best.





VARSITY PLAYERS

JAMES HOLLOWAY
TACKLE

The squad voiced its opinion by electing him captain for the season. Does more grunting than talking, but every grunt means another tackler out of the play or another ball-toter biting the dust. Still another year to go.

LOUIS KRAINOCK
HALFBACK

A galloper, hard to stop, with a never-say-die spirit. His going will be missed in more ways than one next year. His peppy spirit a spur to the running attack, and his tackling always deadly. Louie was always right in there and never would quit.

CHARLES RICHARDSON
TACKLE

Alert, fast, versatile. Shifted from end to tackle this year, he took to his new position with ease. The only lineman to make a touchdown this season. Blocked a punt, recovered, and ran twenty yards for the score. Made his last year as a Highlander an outstanding one.

LOUIS KALMAN
END

"Hard-luck-Louie." Performed well in the first few games of the season; had a chance to become again a mainstay on the flanks; an old injury cropped up; out most of the remainder of the games. Didn't get the breaks his last year as a Highlander, but showed his worth when he was in the fight.

MOSE GAMBLE
GUARD

Big, good-natured, and hard to get around. His mammoth bulk opens smooth highways for the fleet backs to pass unmolested. Never in a hurry it seems, but always in the right place at the right time. Another outstanding Junior.

LEON MILLSAPS
TACKLE

The "fightin'est" man in the squad, yet always a grin at the last. When he tackled a man "Buck" was always the first man up. Won a place on the Smoky Mountain Conference second team. One more year to put fear into the hearts of Maryville opponents.

LAMAR BLAZER
QUARTERBACK

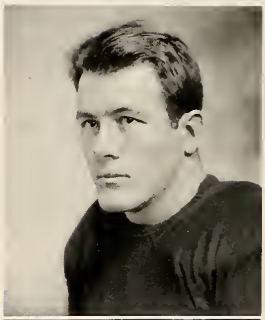
Scrappy, cheerful, always on the move. His peppery chatter kept the team spirit at a high pitch. Cool under fire; good field general and equally good runner. A Highlander who got the starting assignment in every game.

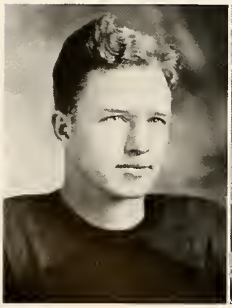
FRANK ATCHISON
GUARD

Steady, dependable, always "in the game." As a freshman had plenty of promise, and as a soph and junior has fulfilled all of a coach's desires. Conference second team and a sure prop in next year's forward wall.

LOUIS MARINARO
GUARD

Dark and bad medicine for anything on his side of the center. Built low to charge low and he does it to perfection. A devilish scowl in action and a contagious grin on the campus. One more season to go.





VARSITY PLAYERS

O'NEAL GRAY
END

Aggressive, smashing type of wing play. Took out everything on a line with his position and the enemy backfield. After being shifted around in his first two years, he finally hit his stride at end, and turned in brilliant performances toward the last half of the season. Received Conference honorable mention.

GID JOHNSON CENTER

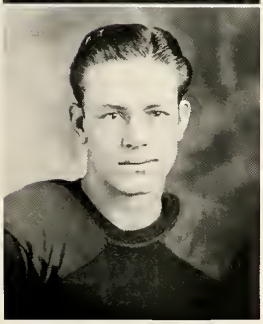
Big Swede and a smart footballer. The only green timber to letter this year and the high hopes of the coaches for the next three. Pass to the spot and charge, his formula. Another Conference honorable mention.

WILBUR LOESSBERG
HALFBACK

Fleet as a Texas mustang and just about as dangerous when loose. Not much talk but plenty of action backed by solid muscle. Conference honorable mention and one more year to wear the Orange and Garnet.



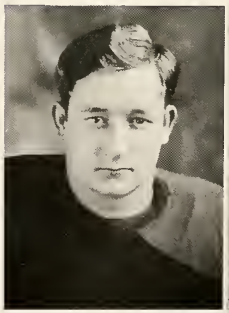
JAMES COCHRANE
TACKLE

Honaker says "Best tackle since Thrower." We say, "Yes sir," and bemoan the injury jinx. Big and vicious, as tough as he looks. Conference honorable mention in spite of only a half season in action.

ARCHIBALD PIEPER
GUARD

His other accomplishments on the campus fail to dim his gridiron prowess. A versatile athlete, popular with everyone. Not too big, but hard to handle for the visitors. We look for even greater things from Arch next year.

VARSITY PLAYERS



LYNN CRAWFORD
HALFBACK

Pugnacious runner, with long strides and big gains his specialty. Fulfilling coaches' hopes of freshman days. A blocking back who likes to feel his shoulder pads deep in enemy bodies. Two more years of cleats and turf for him.

STANLEY SHIELDS
QUARTERBACK

Makes up in brain what he lacks in brawn, since there are only 137 pounds of him. His certain, self-confident attitude put the zip back into the team when he was on the field. Knew what he wanted to do, and then went ahead and did it. Another soph.

JACK OVERLY
FULLBACK

Highlights in great games: Overly place-kicks the extra point to give the Highlanders a 7-6 victory over Carson-Newman; same story against Lenoir-Rhyne. Used his 175 pounds to advantage driving and backing up the line. Bright future for the next two years.

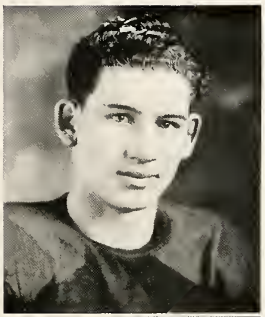
WILLIAM HOLADAY
GUARD

Hard to move on defense. Fast pulling out of the line to run interference, in spite of his size. His record of two letters in his first two years of football at Maryville explains his type of play.

BRUCE ALEXANDER
END

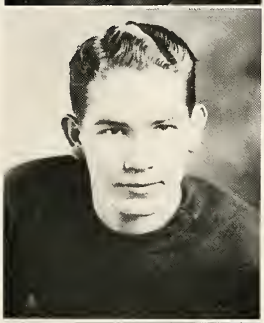
Played good, hard football after breaking into the starting line-up before mid-season. Covers his territory well and is a sure tackler. Showed future possibilities carrying the ball on end-around plays. Made the grade his second year out.

VARSITY PLAYERS



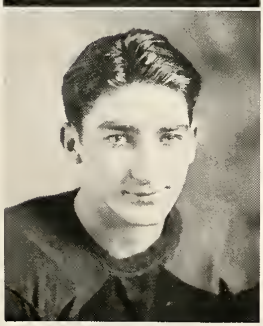
JAMES RENFRO
CENTER

Sophomore material and a dead-eye center. Fast on the charge and a sturdy defense man. Usually found at the bottom of the heap, on line plunges or hot after the runner in the open field.



TOLLTON COULTER
END

Down fast under punts, moves tackles who outweigh him forty pounds, and successfully wards off blockers on defense. Another second year man who took advantage of one season's experience to make good this year.



ALBERT HULETTE
HALFBACK

Passes, punts, runs, and tackles hard. A late season find who played major roles in the two final Maryville triumphs. Although a sophomore, this was his first year of football at Maryville, and his steady improvement toward the close of the season showed that he will be one of the mainstays of the Highlander attack next year.

ROLLIE HUFFSTETLER MANAGER

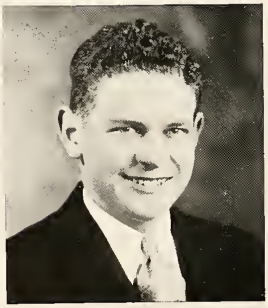
He made the job of arranging games, handling equipment, cajoling players, and being liked by everyone in general look as easy as rolling off a log.



VARSITY PLAYERS

Standing: Allen, Henry Crumbaugh, Hannah, Perry, Odell, Atchison, Overly, Brittain.

THE 1935 SEASON

After hanging close to the heels of the Smoky Mountain Conference leaders for the past several years the Highlander squad finally hit the top during the 1935 season to bring the conference championship to Maryville for the first time. A brilliant team composed of four sophomores and a senior swept through the thirteen-game conference schedule without a defeat, and established itself as one of the greatest outfits in conference history.

During the entire season the Highlanders won eighteen games and lost five, Emory and Henry being the only college opponent to gain a victory. The feature attraction of the year was a tilt with the New York Celtics, world championship professional cagesters, which the Celtics, of course, won.

Seven members of the squad received letters, of whom only one, Captain Allen, will be lost by graduation, so that the chances for another conference championship next year are very good.

Th credit for the development of this remarkable aggregation is given to Coach Honaker, and the Smoky Mountain Conference Championship is another tribute to his coaching skill.

BASKETBALL LETTERMEN

ALLEN

Crowned his senior year with the captaincy of a championship quintet. His shots, daring and spectacular, were also unbelievably accurate. He's sure to be missed.

HENRY

Under-the-basket work his specialty. Pushing the leather from a melee of heaving shoulders and waving arms into the hoop was easy play for him.

CRUMBAUGH

His pep and zest made him clap for his own shots. Needless to say, he merited all the applause he got. Long direct hits are his pride and joy.

OVERLY

"They shall not pass," says he, and he's nearly always right. The backbone of the defense, he held off the opposition in every game this season.

HANNAH

Plays a simple game that's not nearly as simple as it looks. This pivot man extraordinary was the keyman of the Highlander machine.

ATCHISON

A nettle in the side of the enemy attack, this big fellow could always be depended upon to turn back the opposition time after time.

ODELL

A freshman who used his long legs and widespread arms to great advantage in covering his opponent. And few were the men who could get round him. With him on hand prospects are good for the next three years.

LEWIS

The students see the games they like to see, the coach has a good schedule, the team enjoys every trip, and things are kept generally happy all around. That was his job and he did it well.

Standing: Assistant Coach Boretsky, Battaglia, Shields, Coulter, Richardson, Renfro, Gamble, Millsaps, Dean, Hoglan, Ridder, Coach Thrower.
Seated: McKibben, Harris, Hunter, Montgomery, Proffitt, Denmark, R. Mears, Gillespie, Downes, E. Mears, Remine.

STATE WRESTLING CHAMPIONS

The close of the 1935 season found the Maryville College wrestling team still in possession of the collegiate championship of Tennessee, the position held by the Highlanders for the past four years. Although the winning streak which had extended through the four preceding seasons was broken, Coach Bob Thrower led his matmen to seven victories, one defeat, and one tie in a nine-meet schedule.

The Highlanders swept through the first seven matches in their usual unbeatable manner to earn decisions over the Knoxville Y. M. C. A., the University of Tennessee, the Chattanooga Y. M. C. A., and Vanderbilt University, but lost the eighth to Appalachian Teachers, of Boone, North Carolina, another championship outfit, and then closed the season with a 15-15 draw against Vanderbilt in Nashville.

After the final match, letters were awarded to eight men, of whom five, Gary Ridder, George Hoglan, Frank Dean, Buck Millsaps, and Mose Gamble, were seasoned performers, while Stanley Shields, Tollton Coulter, and James Renfro came up from the reserve ranks of last year's team.

Two of the grapplers, Ridder, 118-pounder, who won eight of the nine matches by falls and the other by a time advantage, for one of the best records ever turned in by a Maryville wrestler, and Buck Millsaps, 175-pounder, who has not lost a match in his three years of competition, were rewarded by being entered in the national intercollegiate wrestling tournament held at Lehigh University, of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, in March.

In spite of the loss of nearly the entire nucleus of the great 1933 aggregation, Coach Bob Thrower performed the seemingly impossible feat of turning out another championship Maryville College track team in 1934. The Highlanders took walkaway victories in two of their meets, lost only to the University of Tennessee, and reached a peak to place second in the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet at Knoxville in the last engagement of the season.

The Highlanders opened the 1934 season by losing to Tennessee on the last event of the meet, after holding their own with the Southeastern Conference tracksters until the final race. In the second meet Coach Thrower's outfit triumphed over Emory-Henry by a decisive score, and followed by overwhelming Lincoln Memorial University.

In the state meet the Highlanders won second place, following Tennessee and leading Southwestern, Sewanee, Chattanooga University, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Carson-Newman, Lincoln Memorial University, Milligan, and King.

The 1934 tennis team took its place among the top-ranking minor sports at Maryville College by finishing the season with the enviable record of ten victories out of fourteen matches played. The Highlanders opposed the strongest teams in this section in establishing this excellent record.

In addition to playing the fourteen scheduled matches, the Highlander netmen entered the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Association Tennis meet at Knoxville. The local singles entries won the first round matches, but lost later, while the doubles team composed of Captain John Talmage and Gordon Karnell blasted its way to the semi-finals before losing to the team that won the championship.

Three of the four matches lost by the Highlanders during the season were played on a road trip that called for six engagements with some of the best teams in North Carolina and Virginia on six successive days. The other defeat was administered by the University of Tennessee netmen, over whom the Highlanders had triumphed earlier in the season.

THE 1934 BASEBALL SEASON

The Highlander baseball team began the 1934 season seriously handicapped by a lack of experience, but Coach Honaker managed to organize the green material in time to hand Lincoln Memorial University, the Smoky Mountain Conference leaders, two shut-out defeats in one day and end the season holding the opposition scoreless in the last twenty-two innings.

With the return of only five lettermen, one of whom was lost the greater part of the season because of a leg injury, Coach Honaker was forced to depend on new men in several important positions. Several of the newcomers developed rapidly toward the close of the season, and should be first-class performers in 1935.

NU GAMMA SIGMA

Nu Gamma Sigma is an important part of the Y. W. C. A. organization, having as its purpose the welcoming and orienting of new girls. This purpose is achieved through correspondence with the new students before they leave for Maryville, and through weekly discussion periods under the guidance of upper classmen after they reach the campus. In the opening weeks of college these discussion groups are of great value in helping the new girls to adjust themselves to the complexities of college life.

In response to the changing needs of the women of the College the Y. W. C. A. has served in various ways since its founding in 1888. But at the same time the true purpose has not been obscured in the passage of 47 years, the purpose of making the spirit of Jesus Christ expressive in the life of every girl. We believe that only in that direction can the highest ends for any life be realized.

The working out of this purpose has led the Association to engage in a program of diversified activities. Among the most significant of these are the Nu Gamma Sigma groups, the Big Sister Movements, participation in the East Tennessee Interracial Commission, and the weekly Sunday afternoon worship services.

In addition to other contributions which the Y. W. C. A. makes to campus life, either in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A. or independently, an effort is made to cultivate a breadth of interests. To this end delegates are sent to the State Student Conference and to the Blue Ridge Conference for Southern colleges and universities.

Membership in the World's Student Christian Association is another vitalizing contact with young people of Christian purpose around the world. In these ways the Y. W. C. A. endeavors to be of service to its members.

The purpose of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the year has been to help every student to live a clean life in Jesus Christ. With the motto, "Seek Christ, For In Him We Live," the "Y" offered to the men at Maryville College a program of clean Christian living in mind, body, and spirit.

The activities of the "Y" were built around the Sunday afternoon meetings where vital and important subjects were discussed by members of the student body, the faculty or prominent speakers from other places. Joint meetings were also held with the Y. W. C. A. a few times during the year.

The "Y" sponsored inter-class athletics, cross-country, handball, ping-pong, checkers, and chess tournaments.

Many opportunities for Christian fellowship were offered to the "Y" members at the Pow Wow, at banquets, on the mountain hike, and in the Fellowship Club for the new students.

The "Y" cooperated in the social service work at the mission and the jail, and aided in the Hi-Y organization in the local high schools.

Prayer groups were organized on each floor of Carnegie Hall, where many of the fellows gathered in the mornings for a few moments of worship.

Together the Y. W.-Y. M. C. A. published the "M" Handbook and sponsored the Artists' Series.

The Student Volunteer Group exists for the purpose of forwarding the Christian missionary enterprise. At each regular Sunday evening meeting a program is presented which enables the members to acquaint themselves with the life and conditions on the mission field so that they might more intelligently prepare themselves for the work.

With the motto, "That In All Things Christ Might Have the Preeminence," the Group experienced a year of vital activity. Among other things, it maintained a Library, sponsored a News Bulletin Board, and conducted a weekly Bible and Mission Study Class. The Group was hostess for the state officers' Fall Retreat and sent a delegation to the Spring Conference.

Since its organization in 1900 the Association has brought together in its membership students interested in the Christian ministry with the object of bringing before them for discussion themes relating to the work of the ministry and of giving them opportunities to engage in various forms of Christian service.

Meetings are held every week for the theoretical part of the Association's work, while the active work is carried on through four committees, the country church committee, the jail committee, the almshouse committee, and the mission committee. Every member is associated with at least one of these committees and through it is given experience in many situations similar to those which will later confront him in the ministry.

National Honorary Forensic Fraternity

The Art of Persuasion, Beautiful and Just

The local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was the first to be formed in Tennessee and is one of the strongest chapters in the South, as is shown by the splendid records that have been made by its members in intercollegiate debates and at conventions. Grace Proffitt is one of the student representatives of the national organization, and until other duties forced him to resign, Professor Queener was the governor of the Kentucky Province. The varsity teams participated in twenty-three debates, and in debate, oratory, and extemporaneous contests at the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament held in Hickory, North Carolina, and in the Provincial Convention at Franklin, Indiana, on the 12th and 13th of April.

Graduation from Maryville Expression Department indicates the completion of an intensive course in the art of dramatic interpretation. The aim of the course is to cultivate the power to appreciate and interpret standard literature, to secure simplicity and naturalness in the development of individual powers of expression, and to develop dramatic acting. The high standing of the department is due to the interpretative abilities of Mrs. Nita Eckles West and Miss Wilhelmina Holland.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

This department of the college has for its purpose the laying of a firm technical foundation that will lead to the expression of the highest musical thought and emotion. To that end courses are offered in Piano, Voice, and Violin, together with courses in Theory and Harmony, and History and Appreciation.

Miss Hale is instructor in advanced piano and harmony, with Mrs. Walker as assistant. Miss Henry is in charge of the department of voice and also directs the Vesper Choir and the two Glee Clubs. Miss Butcher teaches violin and has charge of the College Band and College Orchestra.

Several times during the year the department presents concerts and recitals which are popular features on the college calendar.

The Women's Glee Club has had a particularly successful year. Among its engagements, have been numbered recitals at the Maryville High School, at the societies, and at the local church. In cooperation with the Glee Singers, the women presented the opera fantasy, "Briar Rose," in November.

As a climax to the year's program, the combined Glee Clubs were invited to sing at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., in Cincinnati, from May 21 to 23.

MARYVILLE GLEE SINGERS

The 1935 season will be looked back upon by the Maryville Glee Singers as one of their most successful. The Club fulfilled several local engagements including a trip to Allynwick, Tennessee, and an appearance on the Lyceum program at Oneida, Tennessee. They also sang at the local Presbyterian Church and with the Women's Glee Club presented "Briar Rose," an opera fantasy.

A tour was made touching such prominent cities as Cincinnati, Zanesville, and Pittsburgh. Another tour extending as far north as the New England States was cancelled to enable the club to accept the invitation to sing at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.

THE VESPER CHOIR

Much of the worshipful atmosphere of the college chapel services is the contribution of the Vesper Choir. This group of forty students, adding to the meaning and impressiveness of the various religious services of the college, is one of the most valued organizations on the campus.

THETA EPSILON SOCIETY OFFICERS

THETA EPSILON SOCIETY

Time and talent have proved Theta Epsilon to be truly worthy of the high place she holds on the Hill. The society was founded in 1894, and since then has been very influential in fellowship, cooperation, and achievement.

In activities, her members have attained notable distinction in all fields: dramatics, forensics, music, journalism, and athletics. In high ideals and worthwhile influences, Thetas are well entitled to be proud of their standing.

Perhaps the most gratifying measure of the worth of the society is to be found in the loyal devotion held in the heart of every Theta member. Old girls and new ascribe much of the success and enjoyment of their college years to the spirit of helpful cooperation and friendly interest found among the "Happy Sisters."

We look back upon our past achievements and honors, upon our ever-past and ever-present spirit of loyalty and good will, with a realization that these take on true significance only as incentives to broaden our horizon and strive for ever greater accomplishments.

ALPHA SIGMA SOCIETY OFFICERS

ALPHA SIGMA SOCIETY

Originally organized purely for literary purposes, Alpha Sigma has swerved from its 1882 charter to make of itself a unique society in which all the rounded life activities; athletics, drama, music, scholastic activities, and idealistic pursuits, have their part. The attainments of Alpha Sigma men in these various fields have thrown an informal, Bohemian atmosphere over the activities of the group, making of it something more than mere entertainment or pastime.

In addition to aiding to orientate new Maryville men, the Society has contributed in no small way to the general college program by securing and sponsoring the visits of noted personalities, as well as by arranging for the frequent visits of various faculty members.

Alpha Sigma is characterized by its sons on the campus, by the spirit in its halls, by the interest and cooperation of its members, and by its deep-seated and sincere love for good music, art, literature, and drama. Buoyed by this spirit and success in school life, Alpha Sigma will continue through the years to contribute her part to Maryville College.

BAINONIAN SOCIETY OFFICERS

BAINONIAN SOCIETY

For sixty years Bainonian has been "going forward," true to her name, in the front ranks of campus activities. From rush week in the Fall, when she gives the new girls a warm Southern welcome, to the week of commencement in the Spring, when she sends the graduates off with her best wishes, Bainonian takes an important part in all forms of curricular and extra-curricular life.

One of the great aims is the promoting of a feeling of deep, sisterly friendship among her members, leading to a lasting loyalty to Bainonian and to Maryville. Her members are associated, not only in the society but also in the midst of campus activities; forensics, journalism, art, athletics, dramatics, and all other phases of college life. By the force of the example of the older members, Bainonian encourages the new girls to take a definite part in these many activities offered and leads them to develop a well-rounded life.

But Bainonian's influence is not limited to the campus. As the Bainonians leave college they carry on with them the society's high ideals and they are gratified and content to see how the new Bainonians have caught her spirit of "going forward."

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY OFFICERS

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

During the past year the spirit of Athenian Literary Society has grown perceptibly stronger in the hearts of those young men who look toward the finer and more cultured aspects of thought and action for inspiration.

Known as the oldest society on the Hill, and also as the only society of the four to retain the word "Literary" in its name, the word in which the society finds its chief cause for being, Athenian has once more, if we must divide a record of many years' standing into its smaller parts, upheld the qualities of leadership on the campus, if not in officiary duties, certainly in thought and scholastic attainment.

Noteworthy among Athenian's many achievements of the past year is the annual short story-play contest, sponsored for the first time in the pre-holiday months of November and December, and to which Bainonian Society and Alpha Sigma Society clamored eagerly for admittance.

Founded in 1868 Athenian Literary Society took the lead and has held it since among the influential organizations on the campus. This is the record to which Athenian looks forward confidently at the beginning of each new college year.

THETA EPSILON MIDWINTER

December 7, 1934

"Launcelot and Elaine"

Theta Epsilon is to be complimented upon her choice of this four-act play by Edwin Milton Royle which is based on Tennyson's world-famous "Idylls of the King," with many of the original lines retained in the adaptation. The story is laid in the legendary fifth century of English History and the plot is woven around Elaine's beautiful but hapless love for an unknown knight, Launcelot, who, in turn, loves Guinivere, queen of Arthur's court.

The classic was the first of its kind to be presented on College Hill for some years and was well received by an appreciative public. The intrinsic worth of the play was greatly enhanced by the authentic, colorful costuming, and the consistent, finished performances of the leading characters.

ALPHA SIGMA MIDWINTER

March 15, 1935

"The Crippled Pigeon"

"The Crippled Pigeon" revolves around a central theme, the tragedy of a foreign family in America whose conflicts with American culture and ideas eventually prove the ruin of their lives. One note is the supreme sacrifice of life that the idealistic mother makes in order to further the worthwhile ambitions of her son. A second is the tragic note of the father whose warped conception of society and of human endeavor is such that he feels justified in thwarting the ambitions and wrecking the life of his son who endeavors to rise above his racial and social heritage to higher mental estate, but who is destroyed both by his father and by his own mental and moral collapse under the pressure of circumstance.

The play was written by Louis F. Krainock, a member of the society, and so to Alpha Sigma belongs the honor of being the first society to produce a play written by one of its own members.

BAINONIAN MIDWINTER

February 22, 1935

"The Late Christopher Bean"

Bainonian's Midwinter proved to be a fortunate choice. "The Late Christopher Bean," by Sidney Howard, was successfully staged, artfully interpreted, and well appreciated.

A New England setting was the background of such characters as a conscientious country doctor, his greedy wife, a young artist and his sweetheart, and the delightfully human servant, Abby.

The late Christopher Bean was a young artist who, until his death, had stayed at the home of Dr. Haggett. Christopher's possessions were limited to a few apparently worthless canvasses. After Christopher died, the appraisal of one art critic increased the value of the paintings and stirred art dealers to purchasing.

Throughout the play there was an unmistakable moral emphasis. The point of view of the author was an effective commentary on the common fault of basing individual judgments upon social approval. The author also displayed in revealing light the greed that arises from a desire for social advancement.

"The Goose Hangs High"

The admirable execution of the play brought home to a large and appreciative audience the fundamental sanity and goodness of modern youth. Lewis Beach, the author, has done an outstanding piece of work by revealing the true personality of the characters in a subtle way, sometimes by a few words. His characters were typical, yet exceedingly lifelike. The cast, with only minor exceptions, dramatized the playwright's production with a vigor and naturalness of execution.

The success of the presentation not only rests on its execution, but also on its simplicity of plot. The story is woven around the seeming indifference of modern youth to the sacrificial love of parents.

Special praise should go to the stage managers who produced one of the most distinctive sets of the year, and to the business managers who developed an unusually effective advertising campaign.

The Nature Study Club was organized under the sponsorship of the biology department in March, 1933, by a group of students interested in the study of nature.

In addition to the semi-monthly meetings the club conducts a Fall and a Spring hike into the nearby mountains to collect plants and other specimens.

On the campus two major projects have been undertaken. The first, naming the trees on the campus, is completed, most of the trees having been labeled with aluminum tags. The second is now well under way. The college has given the club an acre of land in the college woods for a botanical garden for the preservation of native wild flowers, some of which would otherwise become extinct. The garden also makes it possible for the botany classes to study within a concentrated area many different kinds of wild flowers.

TRIANGLE CLUB

The Triangle Club, composed of students from the states of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, is one of the oldest and largest of the "state" clubs on College Hill. Since the time when it was founded about 1921, it has steadily developed under the enthusiastic leadership of the young men and women from the "triangle" states. Approximately two hundred students from these three states are enrolled in Maryville.

It is the aim of the club to bring its members into a closer friendship through regular meetings and other social activities.
